

Railhead Video Productions

Catalogue

August 2020

These programs cover 40 years of railroad videography. Standard Definition material was mastered on broadcast quality tape formats and on VHS and DVCAM. High Definition material was digitally mastered at 1920x1080. I've also included some 16mm film from 1979. Each program comes with log notes listing dates, locations, motive power and where possible, the names or symbols of trains. In addition, locations and dates are superimposed over the first scene of each location. There is No Narration and No Music except on Thundering Rails. Each program is a chronological composite of footage, shot between Aug. 1979 and May 2019. Locomotives, cabooses (if any) and major portions of the trains are presented.

Thundering Rails 17 Minutes Mini-DVD $9.95

A BLACK and WHITE 1948 public relations film produced by The Association of American Railroads, showcasing both steam and diesel passenger trains. Narrated by Ed Herlihy of newsreel fame, it also has a musical score. The train shots are rather quick, but there are some very interesting locomotives: Alco PAs from the Pennsylvania Railroad and SP; EMD E7s of New York Central, PRR, Seaboard Airline, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern, B&O, Rock Island and the Lackawanna; FM Erie-Builts and Baldwin sharks of the PRR; N&W Js and Ks; NYC Hudsons and others. There are interior shots of large old stations, as well as the trains themselves. It's a corny old script but a fascinating piece of American Railroadiana.
